Mary Vang and Lee Pao Her have four children – 3 daughters and a newborn baby boy. For the past several years, the family of five (now six) has been sleeping in a bedroom in Lee Pao’s parent’s home. They were accepted into the Habitat program in December of 2014 and worked hard to put in their 500 hours of sweat equity in between jobs and Mary’s pregnancy.

Mary works in a dental office and was recently promoted to a Dental Manager position. They are eager to be able to provide their children with a home of their own where they will have space to grow and play.

Says Mary, “The kids keep asking when we get to move into the big yellow house. It’s a dream come true to own our own home, my kids will finally be able to call something home.”
